

Free sewing pattern · no hemming · length approx. 55 cm · level: beginner · approx. 1 hour

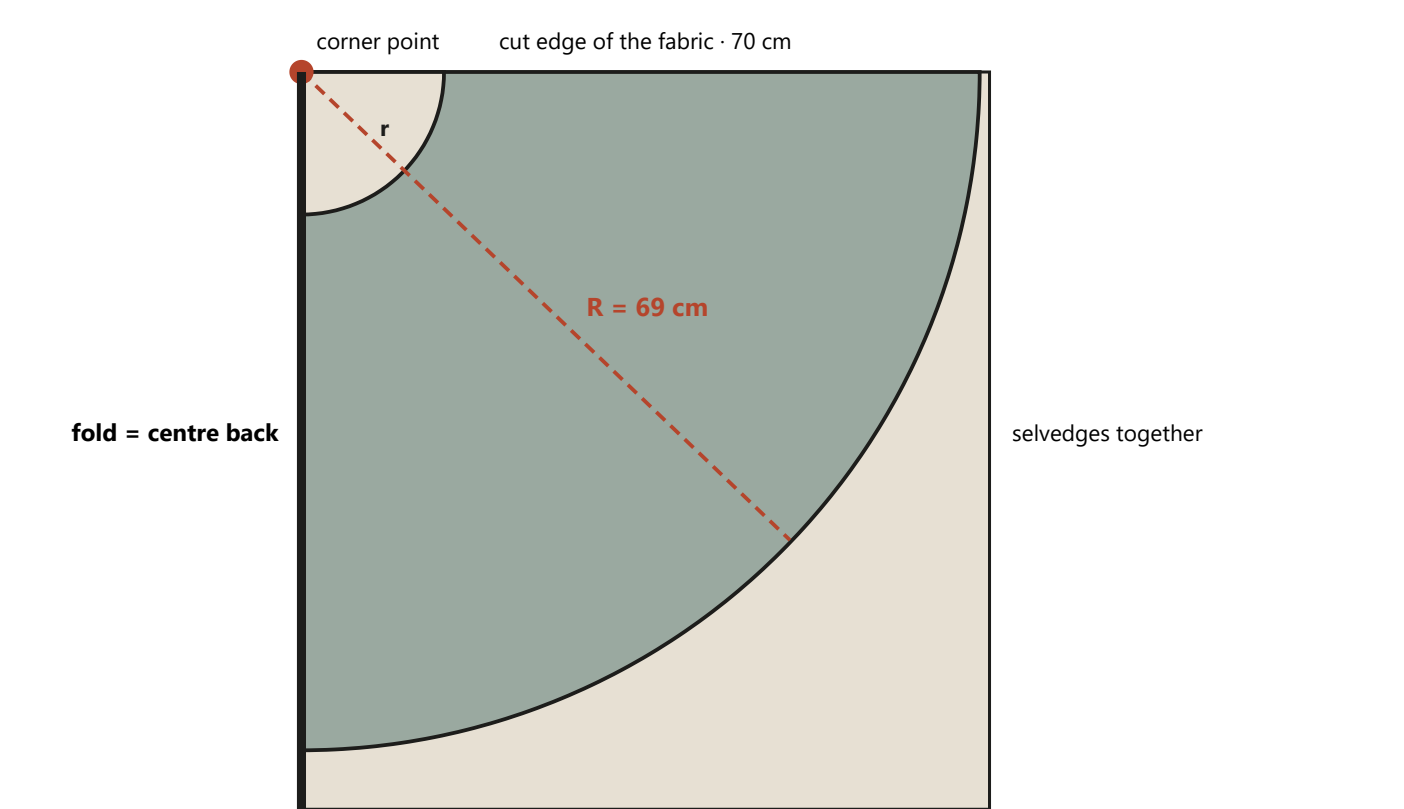

You will need

Boiled wool or loden, 140 cm wide	0.75 metre
Hooks and eyes (or a 30 mm snap)	1 set
Sewing thread to match the fabric	1 spool
Strong string (approx. 80 cm), chalk, drawing pin or pin
Sharp fabric scissors or rotary cutter

Neckline sizes

SIZE	NECK	NECK RADIUS R	OUTER RADIUS R	CAPE LENGTH
S	up to 38 cm	13.5 cm	69 cm	approx. 55 cm
M	38–42 cm	14.5 cm	69 cm	approx. 54 cm
L	42–46 cm	15.5 cm	69 cm	approx. 53 cm

How to draw the cape

1. Fold the fabric in half lengthwise, selvedge to selvedge. The fold becomes the centre back.
 2. Put a drawing pin in the top corner at the fold (the corner point). Tie chalk to the string.
 3. Draw a quarter circle with radius r (neckline, see table) and one with radius R = 69 cm (hem).
 4. Cut through both layers along both lines. Unfold: you have a half circle.
 5. Sew hooks and eyes at the neck, 1.5 cm below the neckline. Done, no hemming needed.
- No seam allowance needed: boiled wool does not fray. Press only with a damp cloth in between, on a low setting.

Neckline template at full size

Print at 100 % (not "fit to page") and measure the square: exactly 5 × 5 cm. Place the straight edges of the template along the fold and the top edge of the fabric.
